CXT Software Grows Technical Support Team

Phoenix, AZ, February 22, 2010. CXT Software, a leader in providing automation technology to expedited delivery and last-mile distribution businesses, announced today that Luis Higuera has joined its team as a Technical Support Specialist.

"I'm very excited to have Luis as the newest addition to our team," notes Tom Herman, CXT Software's Technical Support Manager. "His skillset will allow us to provide better, faster support to our existing customer base and add capacity for more clients as we expand."

"I am thankful that CXT Software has given me the opportunity to become a part of their team" adds Luis. "I will apply my technical skills to the best of my ability in order to assist CXT Software and our customers."

Luis is a native of California and currently resides in Phoenix, AZ. In his spare time he enjoys playing video games, working out and spending time with his wife Courtnie and their French bulldog, Yoda.
